

Payroll-related items of the committee's reports were for employees that spent 25% or less of their compensated time on Federal election activity or other activities in connections with Federal elections.
